Cheers!

Fellow members,

I am thrilled that more than half of the membership attended our Chapter's CSEA Week celebration finale this year at Central Park. I hope everyone enjoyed the tacos, desserts, and gift bags with Target cards and other goodies. I also want to give a huge shout out to V.P Salgado for taking South County members out to lunch and ensuring everyone is able to participate. It is important that we hold events like these and that we celebrate one another, our Chapter, and our successes. Remember that CSEA is not just something you use in emergencies. We are also looking out for your welfare and that of your colleagues. We have your back.

CSEA sticks together in tough times and rough patches. However, we also know how to party and can enjoy the good times too. We've faced many challenges lately, but we are united and strong. Almost all of us are active members, and that makes a big statement to management. As we go into summer, we will be working on negotiating a new contract, helping members with issues, and ensuring that your voice is heard by our new college President and leadership. I am proud of my team and extremely appreciative of my members. Thank you for being the best part of CSEA 470!

What an incredible week to acknowledge our members. This newsletter summarizes our dynamic bunch of chosen animals, food desires, and our precisely selected superpowers! The results are in from the "This or That" questionnaire and amusing contemplative queries. Thank you for allowing yourself to be vulnerable and sharing a little about you, it really allowed us to make this week about you, the amazing members.

We hope that this week brought you a sense of gratitude and that you remember to thank yourself every day for showing up. We know that your efforts sometimes go unnoticed.

From one colleague to another, we are beyond fortunate to be on this path in life together. Thank you is not near enough but know that you are so appreciated.

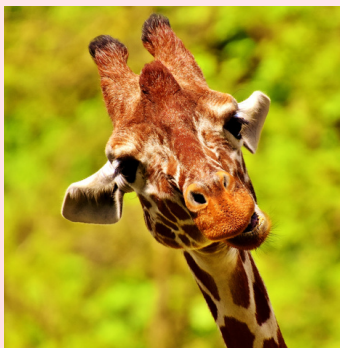

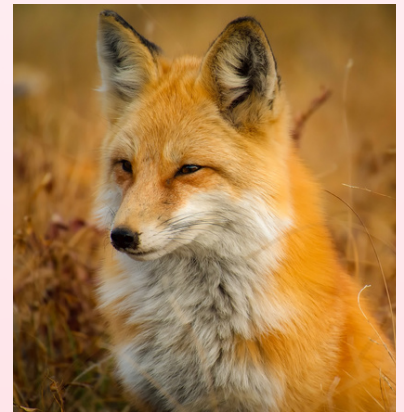

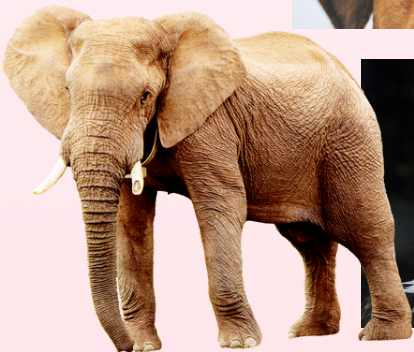

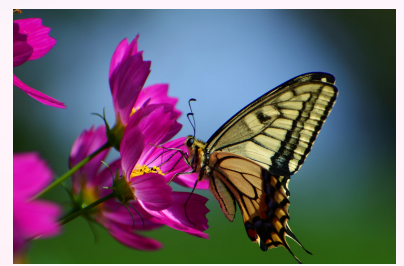

Keep chasing you again and again.
Gratefully,
CSEW Committee
